Thanks for a great school year! Here are pictures of some programs we held for students. Summer literacy events helps kids keep their reading skills and not slide backwards over the school break. Encourage your students to try Wednesday Afternoon Club over the summer. We practice storytelling skills, reading skills, vocabulary and play literacy games. The kids have a blast doing readers theater, stand up comedy, mad libs, hang man, storytelling with wordless picture books and many other games that give them practice while remaining fun. They can also sign up for Art, Science, Drop-In storytime, and our summer reading program: Lab-a-Story: a Reading Experiment (starting June 9th).
